SENTENCING MEMORANDUM

By John Wilson Reed

February 1996

Page 7, 2nd paragraph

Chris Nabors' Blood Alcohol Level was reported by the Crime Laboratory at .04. It is obvious that this reading was not a real one. It is equally obvious that medical personnel at Charity influenced that result. Shelly Haensel's Blood Alcohol Level was reported at .19. Chris Nabors was at least that much. He has described himself as "wasted." He had not eaten since 6:30 P.M. He had been drinking from 8:00 P.M. until 1:30 A.M., without further food. He had gotten into an argument. He had been evicted from a bar. He reeked of alcohol. He raged as only drunks do. He was drunk.
